Dear Planners

I am a Fine artist working currently a Chocolate factory 3 within the Collage Arts organisation.

Affordable studio spaces are so scarce in London that it is causing a crisis and many Fine artist are leaving the city.

I have been working in a professional capacity in my own work for 18 years and have contributed to all stages of others' development in their creative processes even longer.

A creative hub is completely essential in any future planning for any boroughs in London let alone Haringey.

London needs its creatives and affordable spaces to work, this creates a thriving energetic sphere, with opportunities

And hope.

A building that is a permanent creative environment, would see this process continue into the future also for future generations.

I strongly urge you to place this a priority within you planning procedure

All the very best in this process
